

Introduction to the MIBES<sup>1</sup> E_BOOK 2008

This is the first volume in a series of volumes that will incorporate recent knowledge on international management and economic issues. It's content can be widely used by researchers and postgraduate students in an easy and informative way that will assist them in choosing and developing new projects in the relevant research areas.

The papers have been developed by invited authors. The selection of papers have been based on peer reviews of papers submitted to the MIBES series of international conferences in the previous years that have developed well researched literature reviews. The papers included in the e-books are collections of recent literature reviews in a coherent structure by researchers in the relevant fields.

The MIBES e-books are free of charge and they are available and freely downloadable from the web. They can be found in the MIBES webpage where the MIBES series of conferences and the MIBES Transactions JEL listed International Journal can also be found (<http://mibes.teilar.gr>). On behalf of the authors your citations to their work in your papers is highly appreciated. The ISBN number and the rest of the citation information is referenced in the MIBES E_BOOK 2008.pdf of the current volume.

The current effort will be continued and will be fuelled mainly by the work of authors participating in the MIBES conferences. Other invited authors of high calibre are also welcome.

Larissa 2008

The Editor

George Blanas<sup>2</sup>

---

<sup>1</sup>Management of International Business & Economic Systems

<sup>2</sup>blanas@teilar.gr, T.E.I. of Larissa, Department of Business Administration, GR